chef in the classroom

A program of Go for the Gold. www.goforthegoldCPS.org

Chef in the Classroom is presented by Healthy Schools Campaign and the Office of Minority Health, U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, in partnership with Purple Asparagus, Real Men Cook, Seven Generations Ahead and the USDA.

- Bring your culinary talent and expertise into elementary Chicago Public Schools with Chef in the Classroom on April 5, 2011. On Chef in the Classroom Day, chefs will bring cooking demonstrations, veggie tastings and healthy eating lessons to children at schools across Chicago. Through this effort, chefs are answering First Lady Michelle Obama's call to action for kids' health and forming meaningful connections with Chicago elementary schools. We invite you to get involved!
- You will attend an orientation on March 14 (10 a.m.-12 p.m.) on best practices in school food and nutrition; or, you will complete an orientation online.
- You will share with students important lessons about healthful food and nutrition.
- You and a principal will enjoy lunch together and strategize how to best use your culinary expertise to support health and nutrition at the school.

Thank you to Real Men Cook for being part of Chef in the Classroom and featuring this opportunity at today's event!

To participate in the Chef in the Classroom Day, please complete the form below or RSVP at: www.GoForTheGoldCPS.org/citc

Please note that chefs must be available to visit a school and attend the luncheon on April 5, 2011 (approx. 9 a.m.- 2 p.m.). Chefs must also complete an orientation, either by attending the March 14 orientation or participating in an online orientation webinar.
